BRAND VOICE & MESSAGING GUIDE

01. brand foundation

BRAND NAME

IMMERSIVE STUDIO CDA

Use the full name in formal introductions, headlines, press, proposals, and the first mention within a piece of writing.

After the brand has been introduced, it may be referred to as:

- Immersive Studio
- The studio
- Our space

The value of Immersive Studio comes from what the experience enables:

- Greater clarity
- Better decisions
- Earlier alignment
- More confident approvals
- Fewer avoidable surprises
- A more memorable client experience

Brand Promise:

FULL SCALE. FULL CLARITY.

This is the primary brand promise.

It communicates both the physical capability of the studio and the emotional outcome clients are seeking.

POSITIONING STATEMENT:

Immersive Studio is a premium visualization and collaborative decision-making environment where building professionals, homeowners, and creators can experience plans and ideas at full scale before bringing them into the real world.

It is selling the ability to:

1. MAKE IMPORTANT DECISIONS BEFORE THEY BECOME EXPENSIVE

2. UNDERSTAND WHAT DRAWINGS ALONE CANNOT FULLY COMMUNICATE

3. BRING CLIENTS AND PROJECT TEAMS INTO ALIGNMENT

4. CREATE CONFIDENCE BEFORE CONSTRUCTION BEGINS

02. brand personality

THE IMMERSIVE STUDIO BRAND IS...

Premium

The experience should feel intentional, considered, and elevated.

The brand should communicate:

Care

Precision

Quality

Calm confidence

Professional hospitality

Attention to detail

THE IMMERSIVE STUDIO BRAND IS...

Grounded

The brand remains practical and connected to the realities of design, construction, collaboration, and decision-making.

It should never feel like a technology demonstration searching for a purpose.

The studio solves real problems:

- Plans can be difficult to understand.
- Important details are often missed.
- Clients may struggle to imagine scale.
- Teams can interpret the same plan differently.
- Changes become more expensive once construction begins.

The voice should consistently connect the immersive experience to tangible value.

THE IMMERSIVE STUDIO BRAND IS...

Expert

CDA Immersive Studio should sound knowledgeable without sounding overly technical or self-important.

The brand does not need to announce that it is innovative.

The experience itself should make that clear.

Expertise is demonstrated through:

- Precise language
- A clear understanding of the design and construction process
- Thoughtful preparation
- Strong facilitation
- Familiarity with professional workflows
- The ability to explain complex ideas simply

03. brand voice

BRAND VOICE

Primary Voice:

Calm, clear, considered, and quietly authoritative.

The voice should feel like a trusted professional guiding an important conversation.

It should never sound:

- Overly promotional
- Futuristic for the sake of sounding futuristic
- Loud
- Gimmicky
- Tech-obsessed
- Corporate and impersonal

The voice in one sentance:

We speak with the clarity of an experienced professional, the care of a thoughtful host, and the confidence of a studio that knows the value of seeing something at full scale.

04. communication principles

COMMUNICATION PRINCIPLES

LEAD WITH HUMAN BENEFIT

Do not begin with projectors, software, resolution, or technical specifications unless the audience specifically asks.

BEGIN WITH WHAT BECOMES POSSIBLE:

Understand the space.
Compare the options.
Align the team.
Make decisions easier.
Move forward confidently.

Connect Experience to Decisions

Every description of the immersive capability should eventually answer:
Why does experiencing this at full scale matter?

It reveals spatial relationships.

It makes plans easier to understand.

It allows questions to surface earlier.

It helps clients communicate what feels right or wrong.

It brings multiple perspectives into one shared environment.

It supports more confident approvals.

It reduces late-stage changes.

05. core message pillars

CORE MESSAGE PILLARS

1.

EXPERIENCE BEFORE COMMITMENT

Plans become easier to understand when they can be experienced at full scale.

Core Message

Step inside the project before the project becomes permanent.

2.

CLARITY BEFORE CONSTRUCTION

The earlier a question is resolved, the easier it is to act on.

Core Message

Make important decisions while they are still easy to change.

3.

SHARED UNDERSTANDING

The studio gives everyone a common point of reference.

Core Message

Bring the entire team inside the same vision.

08. how we talk about the business

START WITH THE UNDERSTANDING

First seek to understand if they know the value of the studio - if yes, be curious about their projects. Our goal here is to gather as much information as possible to demonstrate how seamlessly we could be hugely valuable before we ever tell them what we do.

EXAMPLE

‘what do you do?’ answer with a question ‘are you familiar with those spaces that allow you to experience your floor plans at full scale?’

If not, you are an educator first.

Be excited to share something new with them - ‘it’s a really neat concept that’s been taking off all over that allows people to experience their floor plans before they are ever built - it works like this - give short explainer about the 3 step process’ and then immediately back to asking about them/their projects.

If yes, ‘Nice! That’s exactly what I do.’ Immediate followup question that gets them thinking about themselves/their projects - ‘what kind of project are you working on currently?’

CORE MESSAGE PILLARS

ONE SENTENCE DESCRIPTION

“We are a full-scale visualization and decision-making environment where clients and project teams can walk through plans before construction begins.”

THIRTY-SECOND DESCRIPTION

CDA Immersive Studio is a full-scale visualization studio in downtown Coeur d’Alene. We allow builders, architects, homeowners to walk through architectural plans at a true 1:1 scale before construction begins.

It creates a much clearer understanding of room sizes, circulation, sightlines, and overall flow and gives everyone a shared place to refine the project and make important decisions earlier.

REMINDERS

Your confidence is their confidence.

Sales is a transference of emotion.
